GLAZE IS FOUND GUILTY

CONVICTED OF MURDER IN THE FIRST DEGREE.

William Trewella's Slayer, Formerly of Honolulu, Given Life Imprisonment by a San Francisco Jury.

SAN FRANCISCO, April 21.—"We and the defendant, Robert E. Glaze, guilty of murder in the first degree and fix the penalty at imprisonment for life."

This was the verdict found by the jury who tried Robert E. Glaze for the murder of William Trewella, his partner in the business of the Windsor Hotel, on January 14th last. The case was given to the jury at 12:30 o'clock yesterday afternoon, and at 4:30 o'clock, or exactly four hours later, the jury returned into court with a verdict.

The verdict was a compromise one, and the jurors spent most of the time in effecting an agreement as to its degree. The first ballot was said to have stood 10 "guilty," 2 "not guilty." As this was merely a trying-out ballot, the vote for conviction was soon unanimous. But the degree of the verdict was not so quickly arrived at, and two hours were devoted to its discussion.

Assistant District Attorney Greaney, in making the closing argument for the prosecution, stated that while there had undoubtedly been some business differences between the partners, they did not furnish an excuse for so cowardly and dastardly a murder. While the bellboy, O'Connor, might not have the strongest of intellects, he at least had good eyesight. He saw the shots fired, and told what he saw. The improbability of the story of Glaze and Trewella going into the dark store room on the morning of the day of the homicide was dwelt upon. The Assistant District Attorney did not believe that the defendant, in the full vigor of his young manhood, and with a loaded revolver in his pocket, would have turned and walked away had Trewella said, as Glaze testified, "E— you, I will kill you!" The fact that the smoke in the bakery was most dense near where Trewella fell showed that defendant had approached his victim and shot him down at close range, instead of standing at the other side of the bakery, as Glaze had testified.

"When this Glaze fled from hell sent Trewella to his maker, the motive came from a heart as black as the crime committed," concluded Greaney. Foote objected to the "foul fiend" reference because it did not appear in the testimony.

WILL GO TO MCKINLEY

It is reported that if the Governor refuses to sign the bills they will be sent direct to President McKinley with the request that the Governor be called down and instructed to sign them. Governor Dole is still ill at his home. Up to early this afternoon no appointments to fill bureau vacancies had been made.

Secretary Hawes states that should any bills show up from the Home Rule "Legislature" they will not be received by the Governor.

SODERGREN ON TRIAL.

Accused of Cruelly Beating His Cabin Boy Repeatedly.

The tale of cruelty to the boy, Edward Hanlin, on the bark Hesper is being enlarged upon in the United States district court today by the introduction of additional testimony. There are six counts in this case against Captain Sodergren, master of the vessel.

The story of some of the witnesses is to the effect that on the way up from Australia the captain repeatedly assaulted and beat the boy using clubs and other things for the purpose. The floggings are stated to have been most cruel. Most of the sailors heard the boy's cries when being beaten and saw the bruises.

Captain Sodergren has already been sentenced to six months at hard labor for beating one of his sailors on the high seas.

MORE SMALLPOX ON KAUALI

CASE DISCOVERED AMONG PORTO RICANS AT WAIMEA.

Board of Health Asked For More Vaccine as Government Physicians Wanted to Vaccinate Other Laborers.

Another case of small-pox among the Porto Ricans on Kauai is reported. The news was brought to Honolulu yesterday by the steamer Mikahala and was officially confirmed by the Board of Health today, as a report from the government physician at Waimea was received by the Kauai mail yesterday.

The case is among the Porto Rican laborers at Waimea plantation. It was discovered on the evening of April 29th, a young man about 25 years of age being the victim. He was at once isolated and the quarters where he had lived fumigated. Dr. Sandow, the government physician called in Dr. Wilkinson of Makaweli and the two diagnosed the case as small-pox, all of the symptoms indicating that the man was suffering from that disease. After caring for the patient Dr. Sandow began to vaccinate all of the other Porto Ricans. By the mail of yesterday he sent a history of the case to the board of health and requested that more vaccine be forwarded without delay as his supply was running short. Dr. Pratt, the executive officer of the board sent the stuff away on today's steamer.

It was reported by some of the passengers on the Mikahala that the small pox was more general, as three people were down with the disease. This statement is evidently the result of rumors for the board of health would, beyond any doubt have been notified by Dr. Sandow if there were more than one case.

The present case at Waimea makes the second discovery of small-pox among the Porto Ricans at Kauai. A little over a week ago another case was discovered among the Porto Ricans at Lihue plantation. The disease did not spread among the other laborers however. Now it appears to have jumped over to Waimea. How the disease was contracted is not known. It may have been through clothes which were sent there but thus far the physicians have not positively ascertained the cause.

Such persons may even be shot.

THE SIGNING OF BILLS

HAS DOLE POWER TO APPROVE THEM YET?

The Organic Law Contains no Clear Provision Against Approval After the Legislature Ends.

According to a United States Supreme Court decision in an Illinois case, bills left in the governor's hands after a sine die adjournment of the legislature might still become laws if signed by him. The decision makes the so-called "pocket veto" depend upon the ten day limit, and if it applies to Hawaii, makes it still possible for the governor to approve and make laws of some of the acts in his hands.

It is claimed by some that there is nothing in the organic act of Hawaii to prevent the governor from signing acts after the legislature adjourns sine die: If he were so disposed he might, according to lawyers who hold that the decision in the Illinois case referred to, apply to Hawaii, make laws of several important measures, including the county government act.

The organic act says that all acts passed by the Legislature shall in order to be valid, be signed by the governor, and then proceeds to give exceptions. The only case in which an act could be valid without the gubernatorial signature is where the governor keeps it ten days, while the legislature is in session, and neither vetoes nor signs it. There is one provision which might be construed to mean that bills remaining in the governor's hands at the time of adjournment are dead. It says that "if any bill shall not be returned by the governor within ten days (Sundays excepted) after it shall have been presented to him, the same shall be a law in like manner as if he had signed it, unless the legislature by their adjournment prevents its return, in which case it shall not be a law."

Attorney Robertson, representative from Honolulu, said when seen this morning that there was no doubt of the finality of the pocket veto, but that a decision given in the Illinois case gave the executive of that state, at least, the right to approve bills after sine die adjournment of the legislature.

THE THIRD HOUSE ALONE

LAST OF THREE LEGISLATIVE GATHERINGS.

The Day After the End in the Capitol Building and Bungalow—Routine Work Going On.

The "third house" is the only one in session today. This is the house that meets on the grass in front of the capitol building. There is a circle of chairs in the shade just in front of the building and it has been the custom for many days past for lawmakers and others to gather in recess hours to talk over events of the day. Today the "third house" is in full session, with every chair occupied, while in the rooms where the representatives and senators held forth only a few clerks are at work.

The scenes about the capitol building and the bungalow were very quiet today, in comparison with the past two months. Many legislators showed up, however. Nine o'clock this morning found half a dozen in their seats, as if they half expected that there might be a meeting. Clerk Meheula of the house and his assistants were on hand early to start work on the journal, in spite of the late session last night.

In the senate chambers in the bungalow all was quiet. Only the janitor and the messenger appeared until late in the morning and the bungalow and officers' club were quieter than they have been for many a day.

In front of the officers' club the flag that was hung to the breeze in honor of the legislature no longer flies. It was down yesterday, as a sort of officers' club decision that the session had ended so that the senate that met yesterday had no flag flying to do it honor.

Makela was on hand this morning, and Prendergast, speaker Akina, Puiki Senator Kalaualani, Representative Kellikoa and others looked in to see what was doing in the vacant throne room, while outside the third house sat in serious converse, sending smoke aloft from many pipes and butts, and disposing of hard legislative problems with ease and dispatch. It was a nice, comfortable, lazy house, but it was satisfied that it knew all that was to be known, and its members could have been allowed to rise and file solemnly into the circle of seats under the paintings of past monarchs in the throne room, they would have done more business in a week than the 30 members rightfully occupying the seats did in their 60 days.

RUSSIA IN THE ORIENT

MILITARY ACTIVITY REPORTED IN MANCHURIA.

Chaffee and Waldersee Disagree Over the Troops to Guard the Gate of the Forbidden City.

LONDON, April 23.—According to a dispatch from St. Petersburg to the Daily Mail official information has been received that renewed military activity was beginning in Manchuria. Chinese troops are strongly entrenched at three points around Moukden. They are armed with good Mauser rifles and have thirty Krupp guns. To the eastward of Moukden there are 12,000 men under the chief Boxer, General Lutanz. To the northwest, near Kiao, there are 6,000 Chinese under the former Governor of Moukden. To the eastward, in Mongolia and near the In-Shan mountain, there are 9,000 more under the Chinese General Schu.

Admiral Alexoff has accordingly organized an expedition under General Zerkpenki, consisting of two regiments and five sotnias of Cossacks, sixteen guns and a body of volunteers, to operate against the three points mentioned. The first movement was successfully carried out in the beginning of April. Kulo, which is 250 kilometers from Moukden, was stormed, and the ex-Governor of Moukden was taken prisoner. In this action the Russians had thirteen men killed and four officers and eighteen men wounded. The advance toward the Turchansen position was then begun.

Owing to the departure of most of the Russian troops from Moukden, the latter city has become very unsafe. Almost nightly Russian sentinels are found shot in the back. The situation in Southern Manchuria is disquieting, and another advance of Russian troops will be made in the early spring.

PEKING, April 23.—Many applications have been made to Mr. Rockhill and General Chaffee by Chinese of all degrees for the retention in China of the American troops until the general withdrawal of the troops of the powers. Many of those who are making this request think the withdrawal of the Americans will mean the other remain longer. There are also people who do not desire to see any of the soldiers go, fearing anarchy and an uprising against foreigners.

Field Marshal von Waldersee has made an application that the gate of the Forbidden City be guarded by German troops after the departure of the Americans. General Chaffee has replied that American soldiers will continue to guard the gate. At this the Germans are indignant, saying this impugns their honesty and that if the United States desires to do her share of policing the city she should leave behind enough troops for that purpose; that merely a few men belonging to the legation guards should control the gate, which will be within the American quarters, cannot be allowed. If General Chaffee persists in this course diplomatic representations will be made in the matter.

The Ministers of the foreign powers are meeting daily. They do not at present show a disposition to reduce the claims, which many think to be extremely reasonable.

RESENTENCED DEFENDANTS

SUPREME COURT HELD FIRST SENTENCE TOO HEAVY.

Water Front "Red" Escapes Trial by Judge Wilcox—Examination of Thome Continued Until Next Wednesday.

Poloaia was fined $250 today by Judge Wilcox for selling liquor without a license. This sentence by the court was made as the result of an order from the Supreme Court directing the district magistrate to resentence the defendant.

According to the law, whenever a defendant is twice convicted of selling liquor without a license he is to receive a sentence of $500 and three months imprisonment. When Poloaia was convicted in Judge Wilcox's court of violating the liquor law the prosecution claimed that it was his second conviction so the heavy sentence prescribed was levied against the defendant. An appeal was taken. The Supreme Court decided that the conviction was not the second time the defendant had been found guilty and that he should be fined in a smaller amount for a first offence. He was remanded from the Supreme Court for resentence so Judge Wilcox fined him $250.

The cases of assault and battery against J. Laughlin, the Water Front "Red" and W. McCarthy the shipping master, were not proceeded. In Judge Wilcox's court this morning by H. Wood and W. J. Johnson, the alleged victims of the attacks by the shipping masters. The court toasted Wood and Johnson in scathing terms for dropping the prosecutions. "Red" is the individual who threatened to drive all the newspaper reporters out of business on the Water Front, while McCarthy is the same fellow who was convicted last week of a brutal assault upon an unfortunate woman.

The case against W. H. Thome charged with assault to commit murder upon F. Schaefer, his father-in-law, was continued until the 7th by Judge Wilcox today.

WERE AFRAID OF SMALLPOX

MANY PEOPLE CANCEL PASSAGE ON THE DORIC.

Steamship Arrived Early This Morning From San Francisco With Small List of Passengers for Orient.

The Doric arrived from San Francisco early this morning and docked at the Pacific Mail wharf at 7:30 o'clock. She had no lay-over passengers for this port and, in fact, had a very light passenger list to the Orient. No less than forty-five people had booked to sail from San Francisco but owing to small-pox having been on the vessel when she came through here from the Orient last month, the prospective passengers became frightened and cancelled their passage.

The Doric left San Francisco Friday, April 25th and brought five days later mail and papers. The mail was taken to the quarantine wharf and fumigated before being sent to the postal authorities for distribution. The Doric sighted no vessels coming down and a pleasant trip was experienced.

Among her passengers are Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Tevis of San Francisco. The recent marriage of the couple was the subject of considerable notoriety in the San Francisco press as the young woman jilted a wealthy Denver man for Mr. Tevis after a very brief acquaintance with the wealthy young Californian. They are en route to the Orient on a pleasure trip.

The vessel will take one lay-over passenger in the cabin, one in the European steerage and about 100 Japanese and Chinese in the Asiatic steerage. She will get away at 5 o'clock this afternoon for Japan and China.

UNITED STATES PROPERTY

OPINION IN REGARD TO WATER RIGHTS ON MAUI.

Attorney General Favors Granting Dr. Raymond's Application, But Grant Should be Approved.

Attorney General Dole this afternoon wrote an opinion for the Governor on the petition of Dr. Raymond to develop the water rights of Kahikini lands on Maui, as follows:

To His Excellency Sanford B. Dole, Governor of the Territory of Hawaii. Sir: I have the honor, at your request, to submit the following report relative to the application of Dr. James H. Raymond for permission to prospect for water in the land of Kahikini, and, if found, to use the same according to the terms which he offers.

The facts, as I understand them, are as follows: Kahikini is a tract of about 17,000 acres. None of it is capable of being utilized for agriculture; part of it is mountain pasture and the remainder is a waste of rocks. Dr. Raymond is in possession as assignee of a lease from the government. The lease has about thirteen years to run. The value of the land will be greatly increased if a supply of water sufficient for drinking purposes can be developed. Dr. Raymond has already spent about a thousand dollars prospecting, and has obtained sufficient water to supply one drinking trough. He thinks it probable that, by tunnelling six or eight hundred feet, enough water can be found to fill a one-half inch pipe. This will require quite a large outlay. Dr. Raymond's proposition is to assume the risk and expense, on condition that one-half of the water which he finds shall be appurtenant to the land of Kahikini, and the other half appurtenant to a neighboring land some six miles away which he owns in fee simple, he having the perpetual right to convey it to said land by means of a water pipe.

The only utility of this large section of Maui is for grazing purposes, and the number of cattle that can exist upon it depends upon the possibility of obtaining water for them to drink. It has heretofore been considered, as I understand, by persons familiar with this mountain tract, that such an undertaking as Dr. Raymond proposes is impracticable; and if he, at his own risk and expense, is willing to try it, it certainly is for the public interest that he should be permitted to do so.

I am inclined to think that it is in the power of the territorial government to accept his offer.

While, under the Organic Act, the control, use, income and benefit of this land is in the Territory of Hawaii until Congress otherwise directs, the title is in the United States, and I think any contract between the territorial government and Dr. Raymond should contain provision that it is made subject to the rights of the United States.

I have the honor to be, Sir, With great respect,

Your obedient servant, E. P. DOLE, Attorney-General.
